

Dr Rico Liu

Honorary Clinical Associate Professor

Department of Clinical Oncology, The University of Hong Kong

Biography

Dr. Liu graduated from the University of Sydney and was trained in Palliative Medicine in Sydney before returning to Hong Kong to start Oncology training. He holds fellowship both in Palliative Medicine of the Australasian Chapter of Palliative Medicine and Clinical Oncology of the Hong Kong College of Radiologists.

He led the palliative care services of the Department of Clinical Oncology, Queen Mary Hospital, which introduced palliative care early in the illness trajectory of patient's cancer journey. He holds a Master of Social Sciences (Counselling) (HKU) which empowers him to merge counselling skills into day to day practice to help patients and their families with incurable cancer. His interests include colorectal oncology, management of Gastrointestinal Stromal Tumor, palliative medicine and teaching of communication skills.