

Professor Chantal Co-Shi Chao

Emeritus Professor

National Cheng Kung University, Taiwan

Professor Chao is an Emeritus Professor of National Cheng Kung University, Taiwan. She received her Doctoral degree in palliative care from Case Western Reserve University, United States of America. Professor Chao has served in the Cancer Prevention Committee and the Department of Health's Medical Ethics Committee of the Executive Yuen, Republic of China (Taiwan). She has been a consultant to the Department of Health of the Republic of China (Taiwan). In 2011, she was named "Mother of Palliative Care in Taiwan" by Taiwan brilliant Women Survey. Her work has helped establish Taiwan's palliative care service model, education curriculum, and policy. She also works to promote life and death education for healthcare workers, students, and the general public in Taiwan.